

Bury People First

Our aims are:

To gather as much information as we need about our rights

To make sure that information is easy to understand

To give advice to groups of people and individuals

To be involved at all levels in making decisions about our services

Bury People First

We are a Self Advocacy group run by and for people who are learning disabled. We encourage people to speak up for themselves and others.

We work with other groups and the Local Authority to make sure that services are OK for everybody that uses them.

We hold workshops about different issues like:

- Health
- Transport
- Bullying
- Personal Safety
- First Aid
- Women's groups
- Communication

We offer advice, information and training so that people can make proper choices.
