PRESTWICH

Is a populous village and township in the parish of Prestwich-cum-Oldham, 4 miles N.W. from Manchester, and 5 S.S.E. from Bury. It contains a great number of genteel residences, principally occupied by Manchester merchants. Heaton Park, the fine seat of the Earl of Wilton, is in the parish. The area of the township is 1,906 acres ; and its population in 1871, was 6,820 ; and in 1881, 8,627. The rateable value is £39,735. The affairs of the township are managed by a Local Board, formed in 1867, and which consists of twelve members. The office of the Board is in Bury New Road. Gas is supplied by the Radcliffe and Pilkington Gas Co. ; and a plentiful supply of water is procured from the Bury Waterworks.

The ancient church of St. Mary is a fine gothic structure, dating from the thirteenth century. It was restored in 1860, and now again several alterations are being effected in the interior ; these include the restoration of the roof of nave, chancel and aisles, and the erection of organ chamber at the east end. The tower, which contains a peal of six bells, has also undergone some repairs. The vault of the Wilton family is in the north aisle of the church. There are 1,200 sittings, of which 550 are free. The benefice is a rectory of the annual value of £1,500 in the patronage of the Earl of Wilton, and held by the Rev. H. M. Birch, B.D. St. Margaret's Church, Rooden Lane, erected in 1851, serves as a chapel-of-ease to St. Mary's Parish Church. A new chancel was recently added and other alterations made at the expense of the late Lord Wilton, who was a great benefactor to the church. Rev. Stanley Swinburne, curate in charge. The Wesleyan Methodists have chapels in Bury New Road, Rooden Lane, and Rainsough. The Congregational Church, Rooden Lane, is a good gothic building of brick, with stone dressings, erected in 1881 at a cost, including site, of about £5,000. It will seat 500 persons, and the Rev. Griffith D. Hughes is pastor.

The County Lunatic Asylum was opened 1st January, 1851, and it stands in an area of 136a. 3r. 29p. When the asylum was first opened, it was designed to accommodate 500 patients, but it has been found necessary to enlarge from time to time. An annexe, just completed, affords accommodation for 840 additional patients, and the total accommodation now is for over 2,000. H. Rooke Ley, Esq., is superintendent.

The inhabitants have great facilities for study and recreation at the various clubs and reading rooms in the neighbourhood. The Prestwich Library and Reading Room, and those of St. Margaret's and Rooden Lane, are well attended. The Conservative Club, Church Lane, was established in 1880, and the Liberal Club, Bury New Road, in 1878. At Rainsough, is a Working Men's Club. A Parliamentary Debating Society holds its meetings during the session, alternately at the Liberal and Conservative Clubs. The Cemetery for the Jews is situated adjacent to the village; it was presented by S. L. Behrens, Esq. At Prestwich Hills is a reservoir belonging to the Manchester Corporation, constructed in 1867. The principal owners of the land in Prestwich are the Earl of Wilton, the Drinkwater Trustees, Lady Dashwood, William Gardner, Esq., and the Rector of Prestwich.

and manufacturing is carried on here very extensively; there are also calico printing and bleaching works, woollen mills, paper mills, iron and brass foundries, &c. The Messrs. Ashton first introduced the cotton trade into the neighbourhood at the commencement of the present century, and Sir Robert Peel, the first baronet, established the business of calico printing here, and his extensive works were for many years carried on by his successors, the eminent firm of William Grant and Brothers. The premises once occupied by Mr. Yates, of the firm of Peel, Yates and Co., were converted into the commodious Inn. now called Grant's Arms, by William Grant, Esq., who was a munificent patron of the place, and whose large print works are now used for bleaching and finishing purposes.
